January 18-24

God Is Passionate and Compassionate

Sabbath Afternoon

Read for This Week's Study: Ps. 103:13, Isa. 49:15, Hos. 11:1-9, Matt. 23:37, 2 Cor. 11:2, 1 Cor. 13:4-8

Memory Text: "Can a woman forget her nursing child, and not have compassion on the son of her womb? Surely they may forget, yet I will not forget you" (Isa. 49:15, NKJV).

Emotions are often viewed as undesirable and to be avoided. For some people, emotions are intrinsically irrational, and thus, the good man or woman would not be described as "emotional." In some ancient Greek philosophy, the idea of the "rational" man, who is (mostly) either impervious to passions or who rules over his emotions by way of unemotional reason, is prized as the ideal.

Unbridled emotions can be problematic, yes. However, God created people with the capacity for emotions, and God Himself is displayed throughout Scripture as experiencing profound emotions. If God can experience deep emotions, as the Bible consistently portrays, then emotions cannot be intrinsically bad or irrational—for the God of the Bible is perfectly good and possesses perfect wisdom.

In fact, there are beautiful truths to be garnered from the realization that God's love for us is a deeply emotional love, but always with the caveat that though God's love (emotional or otherwise) is perfect, it should not be thought of as identical to emotions as humans experience them.
