LESSON 7 February 8-14

The Problem of Evil

SABBATH AFTERNOON

Read for This Week's Study: Job 30:26; Matt.27:46; Job 38:1-12; Psalm 73; Gen. 2:16-17; Rev. 21:3-4

Memory Text: "And God will wipe away every tear from their eyes; there shall be no more death, nor sorrow, nor crying. There shall be no more pain, for the former things have passed away" (Revelation 21:4, NKJV).

Perhaps the greatest problem facing Christianity is the problem of evil—how to reconcile the fact that God is perfectly good and loving, with the fact of evil in this world. In briefest terms, if God is all-good and all-powerful, why is there evil, and so much of it, too?

This is not merely an academic problem but something that deeply troubles many people and that keeps some from coming to know and love God.

"To many minds the origin of sin and the reason for its existence are a source of great perplexity. They see the work of evil, with its terrible results of woe and desolation, and they question how all this can exist under the sovereignty of One who is infinite in wisdom, in power, and in love. Here is a mystery of which they find no explanation."—Ellen G. White, The Great Controversy, p. 492.

Many atheists identify the problem of evil as the reason that they are atheists. But as we will see in this week and in coming weeks, the God of the Bible is entirely good, and we can trust Him—even despite the evil that so infects our fallen world.

WEEKLY HEALTH READING

Sabbath Health Reading-February, 15 Fighting Disease

Our bodies have truly amazing defence systems. When danger threatens, the emergency services of the immune system go into immediate action to ward off the invaders. We, by making right choices, can make a great difference to their efficiency and effectiveness. Although in the West most deaths, disabilities and chronic ill health are due to degenerative diseases, infections still cause many minors, and some major problems. Because most people in the West are well fed and live in reasonably hygienic surroundings their immune systems win most of the time and they have good medical care and powerful antibiotics to take over should they start to lose. The situation is very different where there is too little food and poor sanitation. Then these invaders win much more often.

First-line defences- Danger threatens at each place where invading organisms can enter the body, and they each have their own specific defences.

The skin is perhaps the obvious line of defence. Invaders can't usually enter if it is clean and intact. The nose is well equipped for defence against foreign material that we breathe in. its hairs filter out the larger particles of dust, and so on, and the slippery mucus secreted by cells lining its walls traps germs and other tiny particles, including microorganisms, so they can be blown or sneezed out. The tears are an important part of the eyes' defence system. They contain a mildly antiseptic substance which deals with most invaders. The lids, which close involuntarily when danger threatens, also have function of washing the tears over the eye every time they blink. Extra tears wash out any dust, dirty or other undesirable substances that get in the ears are self-cleaning, and the wax they produce has antibacterial properties.

Second- line defences - come into action as soon as harmful microorganisms break through the first line. This is the body's major defence system, with cells stationed in every organ and tissue, and its white blood cells constantly patrolling the bloodstream and tissue fluid. It is an enormous army of cells backed up by complex support services, with huge reserves and highly efficient (Your Health In Your Hands. P.7)

STEWARDSHIP CORNER

Biblical Principles On Offerings

1 John 4:19—“We love Him because He first loved us.”

The Bible presents several principles when it comes to offerings. One of the most important of them is that the value of the offering must be based on a percentage chosen by the worshiper and that this percentage must be challenging to us so that we can understand what sacrifice means.

It is not about the value of the offering, but its sacrificial value. Faced with this, we have to stop and think: “Have I ever made a real sacrifice for the cause of God at some point in my life?”

Addressing this theme, Ellen White wrote, “How great was the gift of God to man, and how like our God to make it! With a liberality that can never be exceeded he gave, that he might save the rebellious sons of men and bring them to see his purpose and discern his love. Will you, by your gifts and offerings, show that you think nothing too good for Him who “gave his only begotten Son that whosoever believeth in him should not perish, but have everlasting life”? The man who truly loves God will not offer to him lip service merely. He will bring to the treasury his gifts and offerings, that laborers may be sent forth to sow the precious seed.”—Review and Herald, May 15, 1900.

After many years of hard work and struggles in India, Scottish missionary Alexander Duff returned to his homeland to die there. During a meeting in his church, he preached and appealed to his countrymen to step forward for the continuation of the work. No one responded to his call though. He insisted with such passion that he passed out behind the pulpit. As a doctor checked his vital signs, Alexander Duff suddenly opened his eyes and said, “I must get back to the pulpit. I need to continue that call.”

“Calm down,” said the doctor, “your heart is very weak.”

But the old missionary refused to listen. He returned to the pulpit and continued the call: “When Queen Victoria called for volunteers, hundreds of young people stepped forward. But when King Jesus calls, no one wants to respond. Does Scotland no longer have children to respond to India’s call?” he asked. The missionary waited a while in silence, but still, there was no answer.

Finally, he said: “Very well. If Scotland has no young men to send to India, I will go again myself, so that the people there will know that at least one Scotsman still cares about them.” When the veteran warrior of Christ left the pulpit, the silence was broken by a crowd of young people who volunteered: “I’m going! Me too! Me too!”

Appeal: God First—this is the essence of this blessed couple’s life. Today, they can claim that all the things they need are being added each day by the mighty hand of God.
